THE MOST COMPLETE ITINERARY - MEXICO

FROM

€2,750

DATES:

OCT 30 – NOV 8, 2027

SEA OF CORTEZ · PACIFIC OCEAN

The world's aquarium

That is what Jacques Cousteau called the Sea of Cortez. Over 10 days we visit the three must-see places of Baja California Sur: the Cabo Pulmo reef, the city of La Paz with the Espiritu Santo sea lion colony, and Magdalena Bay on the Pacific, where marlin hunt sardines. Between dives: desert, white-sand beaches and Mexican hospitality.

NATURAL WORLD HERITAGE SITE

UNESCO declared the islands and protected areas of the Gulf of California a World Heritage Site in 2005.

THE TRIP IN NUMBERS

12 dives

2 panga days

9 nights

3 destinations

The itinerary may change due to weather or flight schedule changes. In bad weather, alternative activities will be offered at no extra cost.

CABO PULMO · 2 NIGHTS

Diving in Cabo Pulmo

A former fishing village right on the Tropic of Cancer and a National Park since 1995. After 25 years of protection its reef has recovered from overfishing and is home to 226 fish species, 70% of the marine life in the Sea of Cortez. A world example of community-driven conservation.

El Bajo

16 M

A strip of rocks with seven coral species and the highest fish density in the area: groupers, snappers, turtles and jacks.

Los Morros

16 M

Rock groups with large rays, groupers and schools of fish. With current it can be drifted all the way to El Bajo.

Jack tornado

5 M

The huge ball of jacks that roams the reserve, moving in perfect synchrony.

El Cien

30 M

An 800 m reef where, with luck, tuna, dog snappers and bull sharks appear.

Las Casitas

16 M

The only caves in the park, with corals, resident turtles, rays and garden eels.

El Vencedor

16 M

A tuna boat sunk in 1981, now a thriving reef. The best chance to see bull sharks.

La Esperanza

20 M

For experienced divers: jacks, tuna and several shark species.

LA PAZ · 4 NIGHTS

Diving in La Paz

Where the desert meets the sea. We dive for 2 days with 3 dives a day, chosen by the group. The must-dos: the sea lion colony, the Fang Ming wreck and Swanee Reef. In your free time, explore the historic centre and the malecón.

Los Islotes

5-15 M

The largest sea lion colony in the Gulf, about 300 animals. Females and juveniles come close to play with divers.

Whale sharks

SNORKEL

From mid-October to May the bay hosts dozens of whale sharks. We swim with them in small groups.

Swanee Reef

10 M

A bright, clear reef with nudibranchs, octopus, rays, morays and sea lions.

El Salvatierra

18 M

A 100 m ferry sunk in 1976, home to groupers, snappers, morays and torpedo rays.

San Rafaelito

5-25 M

A rock with a lighthouse and another sea lion colony, over a carpet of corals and Pacific fish.

Fang Ming

22 M

A ship sunk in 1999 as an artificial reef, famous for its turtles and black coral.

PUERTO SAN CARLOS · 3 NIGHTS

Magdalena Bay

Three hours from La Paz, on the Pacific, Magdalena Bay is a wild place where the cold Alaska current meets warm tropical water. It is the most important sardine sanctuary in the North Pacific: every autumn giant bait balls form and striped marlin push them to the surface to hunt, one of nature's most amazing spectacles. During 2 days of ocean safari by panga we look for them, and the captain gives us the chance to get in the water, always respecting the marine life.
